

weFEEDsa Project COMMUNITY
Strategic Implementation Partner Orientation

Letter from the CEO

Dear weFEEDsa Family,

As we step into the final quarter of 2025, I'm proud to reflect on a month that embodies our mission of empowerment, collaboration, and community impact.

1. Social Employment Fund – Round 4 Launch

Our Project Office has launched Round 4 of the Social Employment Fund (SEF) under Project COMMUNITY. This milestone marks another chapter in our journey to create meaningful, sustainable pathways for South Africans.

We're excited to welcome a new cohort of participants beginning employment in October 2025. This initiative highlights the power of collective action – bringing opportunities to communities while building skills for the future.

2. My Human Tools Empowerment Seminar

We also hosted two My Human Tools empowerment seminars in August and September, made possible through our collaboration with facilitator Ryan Singlehurst and partner N4E. These sessions were offered at no cost, creating a space for growth, self-awareness, and leadership development.

The feedback from participants has been inspiring, and we're pleased to confirm further seminars from October 2025 through April 2026. To join future sessions, please visit this link for details.

As we look ahead, weFEEDsa remains deeply committed to empowering individuals, uplifting communities, and catalyzing change. Thank you to every partner, participant, and supporter who continues to make this mission possible.

Warm regards,
Zahid Fakey

HIGHLIGHTS

PROJECT COMMUNITY ROUND 4 KICK-OFF

Round 4 of Project Community, under the Social Employment Fund, has officially begun! This phase will onboard over 900 participants across 69 localities starting in October 2025. Through meaningful work opportunities, the project continues to build local capacity, create sustainable livelihoods, and strengthen communities across South Africa – a powerful example of collaboration and shared purpose in action. If you'd like to get involved or support Project Community initiatives, please reach out to our team at info@wefeedsa.org.

MY HUMAN TOOLS TRAINING LAUNCH

Following the success of the August pilot, a second My Human Tools seminar was hosted in September, led by facilitator Ryan Singlehurst in partnership with N4E and weFEEDsa. The sessions explored practical applications of the Human Tools framework, focusing on emotional regulation, communication, & mindset mastery. Combining neuroscience, self-awareness, & everyday well-being tools, the programme equips individuals to lead purposeful, balanced, & resilient lives. Additional seminars will run from October 2025 to April 2026.

SAXONY APARTMENTS RENOVATION UPDATE

Renovations at Saxony Apartments are progressing well, with 6 out of 19 units now upgraded. Recent work has focused on bathroom refurbishments, new shopfitting & doors and painting. Each renovation costs approximately R25,000 to R30,000 and work continues on the remaining units as funds allow. A big thank you to everyone supporting this project – we look forward to transforming more homes in the coming weeks. If you'd like to sponsor a renovation, please get in touch.

VENUE 61 – THE PERFECT YEAR END FUNCTION VENUE

Venue 61 offers a stylish, versatile space ideal for year-end functions. The venue comes equipped with tables and chairs for 54 guests, a TV screen, glass boards, and WiFi. For larger events, up to 80 guests can be accommodated using round tables that can be externally hired. Catering is available from our in-house Café 61. Heartfelt HIGHLIGHTS

"My Human Tools was awesome – the vibe and authenticity in the room were unmatched. Ryan's way of engaging you with the content runs deep, revealing how different reality is from what we think we know. I gained unprecedented perspective through first principles thinking, using my values as a guide, and taking action on what I can control. This course helped me get out of my own way. I divide my life into before and after."
